Story of the Man and the Maid.

Where are you going my pretty maid?
Down to the grocery, sir, she said;
Who keeps this store my pretty maid?
Mr. O. B. Barnes kind sir, she said.
He keeps both fresh and salted meats,
His flour and sugar can't be beat;
His rice is fit for kings to eat,
His store is always clean and neat;
His teas and coffees are the best,
If in canned goods you would invest;
Just try his peas and corn and beans,
A full line on his shelves are seen;
And if you are not feeling good,
Just sample his fine breakfast foods;
His butter, spices, fruits and cheese,
Are always fresh and sure to please;
He'll use you well if you should call,
His prices are in reach of all;
Dear sir, good bye, I must not fail.
To get some tea for papa's pail;
If ever shopping you should come,
Try BARNES' of East Emporium.

J. F. SULLIVAN.

Where He Belongs.

Adam Lohr, a religious fanatic of Williamsport, who has made Emporium several visits with his "Gospel Wagon", who attempted to burn a boy to death as a sacrifice to God, is now in jail at Greensburg, this state, charged with driving insane Mr. and Mrs. Samuel James, of Stahlstown. The James' were devout christians and took great interest in Lohr; as the roads were getting quite bad Lohr decided to hold up for the winter and accordingly went to the James farm with that purpose in view. The crank after a few days stay, decided he would have to make good in an up-to-date religious deal in order to insure living at the expense of the James all winter, and to pose as a "Second Saviour". He claimed he was about to reform the whole world; that he had supernatural powers and had the gift direct from God to remove evil spirits from the bodies of human sinners, and that Christian religion was out of date and that he was vested with more holy authority than was one Jesus Christ.

Lohr was opposed to the accummulation of costly furniture and that the possession of these were sending people to hell, and commanded Mr. and Mrs. James to hold a sacrifice of worldly goods. His followers took from the pretty home over $1,000 worth of attractive furniture and burned it. In a couch there was $900 which Lohr was careful not to burn, and he removed the same. Lohr held that music was an invention of the devil. He ordered a banjo belonging to their 10 year old son put in the fire; the boy ran and snatched out the instrument, when Lohr caught the little fellow and punched him and again threw the banjo into the fire.

Tuesday, Lohr thirsted for the blood of the little boy, and informed his parents it was necessary to burn the young lad at the stake. The father and mother full of religious frenzy, agreed to sacrifice their offspring to please this fanatic Lohr, but while the preparations were going on the boy escaped and a most terrible deed was frustrated.

Lohr's failure to calm an ugly bull belonging to the James, he declared there was a devil in the body of beautiful Mrs. James which must be removed, when Lohr and her husband stripped her of her clothing, and she was led to a field and there in the cold wind the naked woman was placed in a tub of icy water and Lohr poured the water over her with a bucket. The woman was rescued by some neighbors. The authorities declared Mr. and Mrs. James insane and they were sent to the county home. Lohr was placed in jail and will be tried immediately.

Farmers' Institute.

The farmers of this county will be interested to learn that there will be held this year a series of Farmers' Institutes at Emporium, Pa., on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 9th and 10th, and at Driftwood, Pa., Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 12th and 13th.

A number of instructors from all parts of the State will be present to join with the farmers in this locality in the discussion of topics relative to agriculture. These meetings are free and open to all, and we have no doubt the farmers of this county will avail themselves of the advantages to be gained by attending these meetings.

Out of the Ashes.

Phoenix like, the thriving little lumber town of Grandon, on the Olean division of the P. R. R., near Eagle Rock, has recovered from its disasterous fire of Aug. 21, and its activities are bigger and better than ever. Operations were resumed three weeks ago. Before the cinders were cold the contractors Hyde and Doutt, of Ridgway, had ordered their mill machinery removed from Cameron, Pa, and the old mill building at Grandon, was rebuilt on a much larger scale. The new structure is 38x190 feet, with an additional lath shed 20x50 feet, an over head filing room 30x38 feet; a seperate plaining mill 20x50 feet, with two planers installed in it.

The machinery consists of one eight foot band mill and one 5½ foot resaw, with a daily capacity of about 50,000 feet, with a gang edger, slasher, trimmer and all other machinery pretaining to the make up of a first-class mill. The motive power is a 250 horse power engine, also an electric plant seperate, with seperate engine to drive moter, which furnishes about 200 lights for the mill boarding house and store. The boarding house is under the management of Mrs. Fannie Knight, and shelters 60 men. This is in addition to the married men, who have homes in the company's houses on the property, and other employees whose homes are in Eagle Rock and vicinity.

The Company store is managed by Frank Johnson with George Hadlock as bookkeeper. The mill was rebuilt by A. A. Doutt, a member of the firm, who is also superintendent of all the branches of the mill work. Forty-five men are employed in the mill shipping crew and the plaining gang. The loss of the mill and the expense of rebuilding it fell entirely upon Hyde & Doutt, who took the contract of cutting the logs into lumber for the Granden Lumber Co., of Tidioute in 1905. The Granden Co., purchased the timber right of the old Edwin E Clapp estate, from Gregrey & Crawford, purchasers of the land outright. The Grandens cut the logs, and haul them to the river by their own private railroad, and from there they are carried across the Allegheny river by an overhead cable, dumping them into the mill pond. The cable is 1,300 feet long and is capable of carrying two to three thousand feet of logs each trip. There the responsibility rests until the lumber is loaded on to cars for shipment. Although the saw mill contractors lost heavily by the fire they have replaced the plant with a much larger and up-to date band mill than the old one was. J. H. Henderson is the superintendent for the Granden Lumber Co. And the plaining mill is in charge of Frank Lininger, of Cameron, Pa., and manufactures all kinds of flooring and siding and surfaced lumber.

Jan. 6th, 1906.

Commissioner of Health, Samuel G. Dixon, has decided to establish as soon as possible in connection with the Department, a bacteriological and chemical laboratory. This will enable the physicians of the State and especially those in the rural districts to take advantage of the most advanced methods of diagnosing their cases by having blood counts made by examinations for the microorganisms that produce tuberculosis; diphtheria, typhoid fever, malaria and other diseases.

The Health commissioner states that he will get the new laboratory in operation and be ready to receive specimens from the physicians of the State at as early a date as possible as he appreciates the wonderful opportunity for more thorough work that will be afforded medical practitioners.

The State Department of Health will be able to make its own examinations of water when trying to find the original source of infection in the typhoid outbreaks that are so frequent throughout the State and in many other ways the new laboratory will be of assistance to the Commissioner and the physicians of the State in improving the health of the people.

The Politicians Lament.

In the good old year of of nineteen five,
And many years before;
It cost us naught to travel,
We had passes by the score;
To Philadelphia and New York,
And down to Floria,
We rode upon the fastest trains,
With not a cent to pay.

From the windows of the smoker,
We could look out at the stoker,
As he shoveled in black diamonds,
While the sparks came from the stack;
We could kick about the cinders,
As they blew in through the windows,
Just the same as though we paid our fare.
To ride upon that track.

But now how things have altered,
In nineteen hundred and six;
No passes have been issued,
It was a scurvy trick,
And when we wish to take a trip,
We go with heavy hearts,
For at the rate of three cents per,
Our money from us parts.

Do not seek for transportation,
For yourself or your relations,
You must always show the money,
It's no matter in what class.
Tis a sorrowful condition,
For us able politicians,
But our pleadings will avail us naught,
So good bye to the PASS.

Local Institute.

The Teachers of Cameron County will hold the first Local Institute in the school house at Driftwood on Saturday, Jan. 20th, when an interesting program will be presented. Prominent teachers from all sections of the county will be present and take part in the exercises.

Legislature in Special Session.

The much talked about special session of the Legislature convened at Harrisburg last Monday and at once settled down to business. The most important bills to be considered, Apportionment, Greater Pittsburg, Civil Service, Primary Election, and several other matters stipulated by the Governor in his call.

The Senatorial apportionment, fathered by Gov. Pennypacker and introduced by Senator Roberts, of Montgomery, places McKean, Cameron and Elk as 25th Senatorial district. The session will last about six weeks and it is hoped much good may result, since the law makers show a disposition to be good.

The pictures which accompany all the numbers, instrumental and vocal, on Miss Howard's "Picturesque Song" programme, which will be given at the New Opera House on Thursday evening, Jan. 25th, are reproductions of paintings by great artists, as well as scenes from nature. Many of these pictures have been brought from Europe, and are never seen in photographic reproduction in this country. The artists represented range through all schools, ancient and modern. A list of their names would show Cabanel Alma Tadena, Bouguereau, Burne Jones, Raphael, Millais, Corot, H. Kaulbach, Fra Angelico, H. Lauenstein, E. D. Blass, Gabriel Max, Hermann Koch, Bodenhusen, E. Bisson, F. Defregger, Franz Hals, C. C. Coleman, F. Church, E. Sichei, and a host of others of equal rank. The slides are all shown in a dissolving lantern, so that the pictures melt into one another and accompany without interruption the flow of the music.

WHAT VACCINATION DID WHEN TESTED

John T. Hyatt, Former American Vice Consul at Santiago, Writes to Health Commissioner Dixon of Thrilling Experiences In Cuba.

VACCINE VIRUS VS. SMALL-POX

While Victims of the Horrible Disease Fell All About Them, Mr. Hyatt and His Family, With Vaccination As Their Only Weapon, Lived Unharmed.

Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon has received the following letter from John T. Hyatt, of Jersey Shore, Pa., former Vice-Consul at Santiago, telling of Mr. Hyatt's personal experience in fighting small-pox with vaccine virus:

Jersey Shore, Pa., Jan. 4, 1906.

Hon. Samuel G. Dixon, Commissioner of Health, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir—As at Lock Haven and other parts of the state there is so much opposition to vaccination, as required by the Act of June 18, 1895, I feel constrained to write you some of my own experiences and observations with reference to that subject.

I was American Vice-Consul at Santiago De Cuba from 1893 to 1897 inclusive. The influx to Santiago from the rural districts, where, on account of the revolution, it was very dangerous to live, was very heavy,—and particularly after the inhuman reconcentration order of General Weyler. In 1896 industry was stifled and poverty and starvation were reigning supreme at Santiago, meat selling as high as 75c. and $1 a pound, eggs at 10c. apiece, and other things at proportionate prices. At this time yellow fever and small-pox broke out in the most virulent form. It was estimated at the time that during that year there were 10,000 cases of yellow fever and 20,000 cases of small-pox in the city of Santiago. As I recollect it now, the death rate from these two causes alone in that city ascended to a level of from 60 to 100 deaths per day.

The Spanish government, unmindful of the welfare of the people, took little or no steps to stamp out the scourges, and although private enterprise imported a considerable amount of vaccine virus, yet the indifference of the authorities and the opposition of the illiterates, being perhaps about 75 per cent. of the population, prevented any considerable amount of vaccination. No efforts were made at quarantining. Those suffering in various stages of small-pox walked about the streets, mingling with the people unmolested, and many of them came into the consulate on business. Small-pox broke out in nearly all of the houses in the vicinity of the consulate. One man, I remember particularly, afflicted with the dreadful disease in its confluent form, lay in my plain sight in the open air under the eaves of a house standing back in the adjacent lot, not more than 40 feet from where I worked at my desk, with the breeze blowing from him to me, and I saw this man die and his corpse carried away.

My father and mother and wife were with me at this time, and as soon as the small-pox broke out we were all vaccinated, although we had each been successfully vaccinated in previous years. The vaccination took slightly with each member of our family, and we were all vaccinated regularly thereafter every month or two, in order to use every possible precaution, but the vaccination did not take in any case practically after the first application. Whenever fresh virus came to the consulate from the States we distributed the supply where it seemed to be most advisable. Although constantly exposed to confluent small-pox for nearly two years, none of my family took the disease. Neither did others at Santiago during that eventful period who were careful to be successfully vaccinated, as I recollect now from inquiries then made, although the dead wagons were carrying such a continuous freight to the cemetery that it was a common thing for the sexton and his help when night fell to find 20 or 30 more corpses on their hands for interment than they were able to bury, and which they had to leave out all night in the cemetery and bury in the morning.

If this letter can be of any help to you in your magnificent work of enlightening the people of this Commonwealth on the importance of vaccination, you have my permission to use it.

Very respectfully yours,

JOHN T. HYATT

Ninetieth Birthday Anniversary.

A delightful little party of relatives met on Thursday last at the residence of James A. Shaffer, one and one half miles west of Sinnamahoning, to celebrate the ninetieth birthday of James Shaffer, the oldest citizen now living in this vicinity.

Through the kindness of James N. Foutz, train dispatcher, of Renovo, the 10 a. m., mail and the 4 p. m., train, stopped at the house to enable those who attended easy means of transit.

Those present were: Mrs. Margaret Fulton; Mr. and Mrs. George B. Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Barclay, Mrs. Israel Bailey, Mrs. Arvilla Council, Mrs. Jos. M. Shaffer, Mrs. Martha Robinson, Mr. Josiah Berfield, Mr. George Shaffer, Mrs. John Shirk, Mrs. Joseph Strayer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shaffer, from Sinnamahoning; and Mrs. Robert Gibson, Mrs. Lulu Willlams and the Misses Francelia and Nellie Huntley, of Driftwood.

The guests brought many useful and valuable presents for "Uncle Jim," among which was a beautiful house coat from Mrs. George and Mrs. Charles Barclay. The guests were entertained by singing by Miss Franceia Huntley, accompanied by her sister Nellie. The Holy City and many other beautiful and appropriate songs were rendered, and by request "Uncle Jim" sang "When I Can Read My Title Clear." Notwithstanding his ninety years, his voice is clear and strong.

The dinner consisted of chicken, stuffed spare ribs, potatoes, salad, beans, bread, rolls, coffee cake, orange cake, cocoanut cake, delicate cake, mince pie, pumpkin pie, cranberry sauce, peach sauce, apples, tea and coffee.

Mr. James Shaffer is the fifth son of James and Margaret Shaffer, the oldest settlers of this vicinity, and is one of a family of fifteen children, all of whom lived to marry. There are now but two living, Mrs. Dr. French and Uncle Jim. X

Elaborate Church Wedding.

Hon. and Mrs. I. K. Hockley and Mrs. A. E. Howard have issued invitations for the marriage of Miss Ada Ellen Hockley and Mr. Benjamin Blackmar Throop, at the Presbyterian Church, Emporium, Wednesday evening, Jan. 24th, 1906, at seven o'clock. The young people are very popular and the great event is destined to be the most elaborate function ever celebrated in Emporium.

New Walker Block.

Mr. Joseph Kaye gave ye editor a peep at the plans for the new Walker Block to be erected upon the site of the one partly destroyed by fire. The first floor will be used for stores, while the second floor is arranged for offices—we learn to be occupied by Keystone Powder Co. A third story will be added and fitted up in fine manner for halls or lodges. Work will commence at an early date.

Shippen Republican Primary Election.

The Republican electors of Shippen township are requested to meet at the Court House, Emporium, on Saturday, Jan. 27th, 1906, between the hours of two and four, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the several offices to be filled at the election to be held Tuesday, Feb. 20th, 1906.

All persons intending to be candidates must file their names not later than Jan. 24th in order to get their names on the ballot.

Man About Town.

WHAT THE LIGHT FROM THE FURNACE SHOWED.

The moon shown in solemn splendor,
Stars glistened in the heavens above,
Murmuring in accents tender,
I saw him talking with his love.

They two alone the fiery furnace,
Lighted up the kitchen door,
Tell me, I heard him mutter,
"Tell me you never loved before."

Her azure eyes with tear drops glistened,
Her stifling heart throbs I could hear,
The light went out, I stood and listened,
She softly murmured, "not this year."

The song of the sleigh bells and snow shovel would be quite welcome.

Don't be alarmed about ice; we will have a shower of it before the robins nest again.

The Colonial Express on the E. & R. V. railroad ran into a fog bank near Catfish Siding Monday evening. No one was severely injured. The trainmen and passengers all had one of Pyle's insurance policies and escaped injury. The engine slipped a few cogs and was disabled. The passengers were brought to the tannery on the Punxsutawney local and from there came to town in Mike Hout's automobile.

Brother Bair says, "photographers are always trusting men—have to take people at their face value."

We see Geo. Crawford has been having a law suit. Look out, remember what Dickens says about law suits and widows. George is a promoter and capitalist, good fellow all around, a favored member of the 400, literary in his tastes, reads "Ibsen and the Illied" and Frenz'ed Finance, can recite "The Lay of the last Minstrel like a trained elocutionist, is matrimonially inclined, but a little slow. May his shadow never be longer.

Brother Ericsson sent for a Christmas present to a lady friend across the Zider Zee—a suit of pejammas. He has received no acknowledgment yet and is a little worried.

The "Window Sill Club" is debating some strenuous questions these winter evenings. One question is why should a man pay pew rent and a minister's salary when salvation is free. Another is how many men are there in the United States by the name of Smith who smoke a pipe.

Dr. Falk says "wine in excessive quantities will prevent appendicitis. The sage of Portage remarks that Paris green, carbolic acid, and chloroform in excessive quantities will also prevent it.

Some people are complaining that the milk they buy is watered. The milkman says he does not water it, but some days his cows stand out and get wet through.

Brother Blinzler says at the recent meeting of the National Barbers' Union, held in the school house at Huntly, delegates from every state in the Union were present, although one of the Emporium delegates went on a tie pass from the grist mill. By a unanimous vote they decided to make the word tonsorial obsolete, and use whiskeraneous instead.

Eggs are high, but Mike Hogan says you cannot blame the hens, they are not paid any more for laying than when they were cheaper.

Uncle Peter Beattie says: Some people keep awake nights thinking what they might have been worth if they had not been prodigal; thinks they had better think nothing and give their brain a rest; says everybody is abusing the devil but you don't hear of him giving up his job; he had a good old pious friend who was a great smoker and talking with the minister one day, the minister remarked, the Bible said nothing unclean could enter the kingdom of heaven and there was nothing more unclean than the breath of a smoker. Well, says his old friend, when I go to heaven I intend to leave my breath behind; he is some times very absent minded, he thought he left his watch at home the other day and then pulled his watch out of his pocket to see if he had time to go home and get it; thinks if Ananias should come on earth and meet the Man About Town, he would hand him the belt and congratulate him for putting the profession up among the constellations.

Man-Developer.

The struggle to get away from poverty has been a great man developer. Had every human being been born with a silver spoon in his mouth—had there been no necessity put upon him to work—the race would still be in its infancy. Had everybody in this country been born wealthy, ours would be one of the dark ages, says Owen Swett Marsden, in Success Magazine. The vast resources of our land would still be undeveloped, the gold would still be in the mines, and our great cities would still be in the forest and the quarry. Civilization owes more to the perpetual struggle of man to get away from poverty than to anything else. It is not poverty itself, but the effort to get away from it, that makes the man. We are so constituted that we make our greatest efforts and do our best work while struggling to attain that which the heart longs for. It is practically impossible for most people to make their utmost exertions without imperative necessity for it. It is the constant necessity to improve his condition that has urged man onward and developed the stamina and sterling character of the whole race. A youth born and bred in the midst of luxury, who has always leaned upon others, who has never been obliged to fight his way up to his own loaf, and who has been coddled from his infancy, rarely develops great stamina or staying power. He is like the weak sapling in the forest compared with the giant oak which has fought every inch of its way up from the acorn by struggling with storms and tempests. Power is the result of force overcome. The giant is made strong in wrestling with difficulties. It is impossible for one who does not have to struggle and to fight obstacles to develop fiber or stamina. "To live without trial is to die but half a man." Strength of character is a thing which must be wrung out of obstacles overcome.

Timber Famine.

The woodmen spared not the trees whose ghosts now return to threaten us with a timber famine. Whereas ten years ago only the soundest ties were used by the railroads, seconds and thirds are now accepted by the purchasing agents. Red oak, black oak, beech, gums, pines and other soft woods which once were considered worthless are now treated with creosote and other preservatives for ties, crossarms and poles. This treatment quadruples the life of a soft wood tie and will meet the demand for some years. But shortage is in sight and must be met by plantations. Maude Adams is said to have planted upon her Long Island property 100,000 locust trees which will make the best and most lasting telegraph poles and railroad ties. A catalpa plantation in Kansas owned by a railroad shows an annual net profit of $12.65 per acre. The annual tie consumption of a single railroad is about 3,850,000 ties, the yield of 12,800 acres. The total annual consumption of railroad ties is 120,000,000, or fully one-sixth of the total cut of timber. Besides this are the vast drains upon the forest for telegraph and telephone poles, crossarms, and other uses. At the present rate of consumption the United States will be bare of marketable timber in 40 years. The government forest service offers substantial help to planters.

If, in the course of human events, universal peace is agreed upon by the nations of the earth, as is now promised, what would be more natural, says the Baltimore Herald, than that the powers should enter into an ironclad compact placing the administration of the affairs of this dear old oblate spheroid under one central movement and bringing into being a grand United States of the world? The economical advantage of such a consummation must be apparent to the dullest novice. Picture the combined armies and navies of this great land going forth to do battle with the forces of other globes, seeking, like Alexander, new worlds to conquer. Picture the interstate commerce commission disentangling a problem presented by the shipment at reduced rates of a crate of peaches from the state of Siam to the state of Honduras.

SOLID REPUBLICAN LINE.

No Aid or Comfort for the Democrats in This Session of Congress.

On the eve of the reassembling of congress the Democratic papers are again telling stories about the alleged discord between the president and that body. One of them is saying that the president has a "lawless mind," that he "would rather make precedents than follow them," and that "he is quick on the trigger." For these and other fancied reasons, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, some Democrats imagine that a rupture is close at hand between the president and congress. As the session is abou tto be resumed, as this is the long session, and as the record made in it will have much to do with the fortunes of the Republican party in the congressional elections in November of this year, these stories of alleged discord between the head of the administration and the law-making body would, if true, be of vast consequence to the country. For the moment there are some Democrats trying to make themselves believe those tales.

So far as regards the house of representatives, these stories of discord are manifestly untrue. Mr. Roosevelt and Speaker Cannon are in harmony on all the leading issues of the hour. This is so well known that no sane Democrat will have the hardihood to deny it. On rate regulation, statehood, the tariff, the Panama canal and the other questions of national moment the president and the Republican leaders in the House are in complete accord. A rate-regulation and a statehood bill will be passed in the house within the next ten or twelve days. The Philippine bill will quickly go through the house on the lines urged in the president's message and laid down in the Republican caucus bill. All the additional Panama legislation which the president and the secretary of war have been urging will go through the house long before the session comes to a close. The president is against all interference with the Dingley tariff, and the house stands with him. Not a single issue is before the country on which the president and the popular chamber disagree. Every intelligent Democrat in the country is aware of all this. The Democratic papers which are saying there is a divergence between the head of the administration and congress must believe that their readers are blind to the signs of the times.

The talk about differences between the president and the senate is exaggerated. All the Republicans in the senate except a corporal's guard are in favor of the passage of the statehood and the Philippine bills. The statehood bill which has been reported to the senate is on the same lines as that which is before the house. The reduction in duties for the Filipinos which the house will pass a few days hence has the assent of the Republican leaders in the upper chamber. None of the Republican leaders in the senate are asking for any general tariff legislation this year. On the only issue, that of railway rate regulation, on which there was a prospect of a divergence something like harmony has been established. Foraker's rate bill differs in an important degree from the one which will pass the house in a week or two, but the Foraker bill will not receive the senate's sanction. A bill which has been introduced by Dolliver will be the basis of the senate's own measure, and the bill is on the lines of the one now before the house. It received the favor of the president and Speaker Cannon. It is understood that Elkins, the chairman of the committee which has it in charge, will support it. There is not the slightest doubt that it will command the assent of all the Republicans in the senate except perhaps half a dozen or thereabouts. It will be sure to receive the support of many Democrats, though it is a Republican measure, and will be carried by Republican votes. In this year in which a congress is to be chosen the Republicans know the necessity of preserving an unbroken line in the face of the enemy. No aid and comfort for the Democrats will be afforded by anything which the Republicans do or fail to do in this session of congress.

COMMENT OF THE PRESS.

☞Free trade has become such a stormy issue in England that another reason is apparent why the free traders in this country call themselves tariff revisers.

☞Some of the Democrats in the house have discovered an issue. It is of a personal nature and takes the form of a mutual interchange of epithets. The ground floor of the Democratic party is the liveliest spot in politics.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

☞Cheap food without the price is far less to be desired than high-priced food with it. The American laborer, purchaser, manufacturer and even newspaper editor who writes for free trade never enjoyed such prosperity, never lived so well and never was so sure of the price of his food and other necessaries as he is to-day. Why, then, disturb the condition? Reduce the price and you must reduce the power to get the price.—Salem (Ore.) Statesman.

☞It is not true that tariff reform sentiment is growing in Iowa among the Republicans. The people of Iowa are not thinking about the matter. The tariff reform agitation in Iowa is practically confined to Gov. Cummins and his new-light followers.—Burlington Hawk-Eye.

☞If ever reasons develop why the tariff should be revised the Republican party will see them and act upon them upon its own initiative. It will not be forced into a discussion of a tariff tinkering proposition advanced by the opponents of the protective system.—Albany Journal.

EDUCATION OF BRYAN.

His Trip to the Philippines Is Letting In the Light on the Situation.

W. J. Bryan took a trip from Manila through the adjacent counties and at sundry towns was received with parades and triumphal arches. At Malalos there was a banquet in his honor, at which the mayor-elect made a speech with independence as its text.

To the disappointment of some of his hearers, says the Chicago Inter Ocean, Mr. Bryan refused to follow the lead thus given him. He is said to have declined to criticise the American administration, to have counseled obedience to the existing government, and to have spent most of his time in an exposition of Democratic and Republican principles as he understands them.

These statements pleasingly suggest that Mr. Bryan is really beginning to learn something about the Philippines, and is beginning to understand that their problem, when seen at short range, is by no means so easy as he thought it was from his station in Nebraska. When he looks at Filipinos, and at least tries to see what they are, it is quite natural, and commendable that Mr. Bryan should feel some increase of responsibility for his utterances, and should feel inclined to refrain from trying to settle the Philippine question out of hand, as he had been wont to do at home.

If Mr. Bryan's counsels of obedience and loyalty to the Filipinos are sincere—if they are not accompanied with those innuendoes and insinuations which reveal to the hearer that the speaker means what he says only in the Pickwickian sense—it is possible that his speechmaking in the islands will not add to the harm of his mere presence, and that here and there a Filipino may come to perceive that even if Mr. Bryan were president he would have to be for his own country first, and therefore could not really do anything to establish for discontented Filipinos their notion that America is all wrong.

If Mr. Bryan persists in his course as now reported—if he gives his whole heart to it—he may repair something of the injury done to his own country by his going to the islands at all.

That Mr. Bryan should change his course altogether and look at the Philippine problem as a stalwart American is too much to expect. Yet it is cheering to observe that Mr. Bryan's present conduct is not wholly destitute of propriety, and that in the Philippines he really seems to be learning what are some of the things which an American should not say or do.

COMBINATION OF RIPPERS.

Tariff Reformers on Both Sides Might Be Induced to Get Together.

The leader of the Democratic minority in the house of representatives hastens to assure the minority of Republican tariff rippers of his complete sympathy and cordial cooperation. On the opening day of the session John Sharp Williams introduced several bills for the disturbance of the tariff. These bills provide for a minimum tariff, for no tariff at all on Philippine products and for convening the United States and Canadian high joint commission with a view to arranging a reciprocity dicker. The bill to establish a minimum tariff provides that the existing tariff schedules shall constitute the maximum tariff of the United States and a reduction of 20 per cent. from them, or rates equal to four-fifths of the existing duties, to constitute the minimum tariff of the United States. The bill extends the operation of the minimum tariff to all such countries as grant admission to their markets of articles the product and growth of the United States at the minimum tariff rates levied by them. Mr. Williams said he had selected 20 per cent. as the amount of reduction to be made so as to constitute a minimum tariff—although he thought that the reduction should be greater than that—out of deference to Republican opinions and to give Republicans who are sincere and honest in their desire to reduce the tariff an opportunity to act, and with the knowledge of the fact that they would meet with no factious opposition, but with the hearty support of the Democrats.

Here is a challenge to the Republican tariff rippers to coalesce with the Democratic tariff wreckers. Do the Republican rippers want the hearty support of the Democrats? Will they make the deal? It would be an interesting combination.

☞For some reason or other the Republican national committee has not yet issued an address congratulating the party on the return of Hon. "Web" Davis.—Kansas City Journal.

☞American manufacturing concerns are establishing branches in Canada. Some of the critics are laying this to the Dingley tariff. But as Canada has somewhat stringent protection itself, the argument does not appear to be particularly strong. It looks as though our manufacturers had discovered that the introduction of American ideas in Canada with a Canadian tariff to protect them, is not half a bad scheme.—Troy Times.

☞When Mayor McClellan said: "I am a Democrat," he added nothing to popular knowledge. He should have specified his particular preference among the 67 varieties.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞To a man of ordinary intelligence the distinction between Republican reciprocity and the other kind should be quite clear. "What we do not ourselves produce" is a phrase the meaning of which there is no mistaking. We produce coal and we produce iron. Why do they call that reciprocity which admits them free?—Portsmouth (N. H.) Chronicle.

A NEW DEAL.

It was Marked by "Rough House" Scenes.

IN PHILADELPHIA.

The "Regular" Republicans of that City Reorganize Under the Lead of Reformers.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13.—The regular republicans of Philadelphia held conventions Friday for the nomination of candidates for magistrate, city councils and school directors and for the selection of delegates to the state convention. Last night the 43 ward committees met for their annual organization and to choose men to represent them in the republican city committee.

Not in years have there been so many bitterly fought ward or district contests as occurred throughout the city yesterday. Beginning with the primaries Thursday night, when many participants were arrested in various wards, the fights were carried into the convention Friday. In several wards conventions were interrupted for a time and in some instances the disorder made by the rival delegates was so great that the police had to interfere.

Since the defeat of the republican organization last fall new combinations have been formed by the ward leaders in their efforts to get control of the city committee. In many wards republicans who were prominent in the reform movement were enlisted in the fight, with the result that the "reorganizers" are now in control and the old city organization, of which Mr. Durham was the leader, is practically out of existence.

A ROBBERY IN A BANK.

A Satchel Containing $3,150 Stolen —A Mysterious Affair.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 13.—A daring robbery took place Friday in the National Banking Co.'s offices in this city when a sacthel containing several thousand dollars disappeared from the counter while the man who had just drawn the money turned for a minute to speak with a friend. Both he and his friend say they saw no one approach the spot where the satchel had been placed. The police have no clew.

Laban Dennis, secretary of the George Brown & Co. stone works, went into the bank about noon to draw $3,150, the weekly pay roll. He deposited the money in a satchel, but as he started to leave he met a friend and placed the satchel on the check shelf and then turned to his acquaintance. When he looked for the satchel a few moments later it was gone.

The bank is less than 100 yards from police headquarters. The police were promptly notified and a general alarm was sent out. It is the theory of the police that some one in the bank who had seen Dennis receive the money and count it waited until he turned his back and then walked hurriedly toward the door, taking the bag as he went.

PRIOR'S FORGERIES.

They Were Confined to Three Issues of Municipal Bonds.

Cleveland, Jan. 13.—The committee in charge of the investigation of the affairs of Denison, Prior & Co. met yesterday and after the meeting announced their belief that forgeries to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars exist and are confined to the following three issues of bonds: City of Canton, O., 4 per cent. waterworks extension bonds; South Sharon, Pa., 4½ per cent. improvement bonds, and Alpena, Mich., 5 per cent. waterworks bonds.

Regarding the statement that forged bonds are held by 50 interior banks, H. R. Newcomb, a member of the bankers' committee, said that there was no justification for its being made. He added that so far as the committee's investigation had gone not more than a dozen banks are involved.

BUSINESS BULLETIN.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade.

New York, Jan. 13.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Seasonable weather more than offset the effect on business conditions of increased strife between labor and capital. Low temperature and snow brought out the backward demand for heavy weight wearing apparel and rubber goods, restoring the one lagging trade factor, and the other departments of jobbing and manufacturing continued vigorously engaged in preparing for the future, except where a few strikes produced hesitation.

Failures this week numbered 309 in the United States, against 324 last year, and 51 in Canada, compared with 28 a year ago.

Ex-Chief Hill Is Acquitted.

Philadelphia, Jan. 13.—Acting upon the instructions of Judge Audenreid the jury yesterday acquitted John W. Hill, former chief of the filtration bureau, who was on trial charged with forgery and falsifying the records of his bureau for the benefit of a firm of contractors.

Schooner Capsized—Five Men Missing

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 13.—The schooner Samuel L. Russell, of Norfolk, lies capsized in lower Chesapeake bay. Her crew of five men are missing and are believed to have been drowned.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Proceedings of the Senate and House of Representatives.

Washington, Jan. 9.—The senate gave attention yesterday to the Panama canal, the situation in San Domingo and the merchant marine shipping bill. The canal question came up in connection with a message from the president in which among other things he invited the closest scrutiny into all that had been done by the government on the isthmus of Panama. Mr. Gallinger opened the debate on the merchant marine shipping bill, presenting figures in support of that measure. With over four hours devoted to the District of Columbia there was left but a half hour to be devoted by the house to tariff discussion.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The senate adopted two resolutions of inquiry. One of them authorizes an investigation by the committee on interoceanic canals into the general conduct of the affairs of the Panama canal, and the other an inquiry by the finance committee into the question of the exchange rate on money on the isthmus. The Philippine tariff measure was the single topic of consideration in the house yesterday. The speeches were uniformly against the measure. Digression in the form of tariff revision discussion was made in a speech by Mr. Gillett, of Massachusetts, who favored Canadian reciprocity.

Washington, Jan. 11.—A vigorous speech in favor of the Philippine tariff by Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, opened the proceedings in the house yesterday. It was followed by several others against the measure, most notable of which was a two-hour address by the veteran statesman, Mr. Keifer, by Mr. Keifer, of Ohio. About 80 bills were passed by the senate. Of the bills passed a large majority grant private pensions and many were bridge bills. One of the bills favorably acted upon appropriates $200,000 for the appropriate marking of the graves of Confederate soldiers who died in northern prisons during the civil war.

Washington, Jan. 12.—The Philippine tariff debate in the house yesterday consisted more of party maneuvering for advantageous campaign material than of discussion of the question at issue. The tariff was the text of a speech by Mr. Grosvenor and of an extended reply by Mr. Williams, the minority leader. Before going into executive session the senate listened to a speech by Mr. Heyburn in support of his bill creating a national board for the control of corporations.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Interest was injected into the Philippine tariff debate in the house of representatives Friday by a Massachusetts "idea" tariff exposition by Mr. McCall, of that state; by a character study of the Filipino by Mr. Longworth, of Ohio, and a defense of President Roosevelt by Mr. Pou, a democrat from North Carolina. Besides these there were a number of speeches delivered on the merits of the bill, nearly all of which were in opposition to the measure.

MONEY AND PEOPLE.

We Are Losing Both Through an Exodus to Canada, Says James J. Hill.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—President James J. Hill, of the Great Northern railroad, was in Chicago Tuesday and held conferences with the officials of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road. Concerning the recent indictment of officials of the Burlington road in connection with charges of granting rebates, Mr. Hill declared that he would be glad to have the matter brought to trial speedily. He declared that he was in favor of reciprocity with Canada in order to stop the exodus of American settlers, manufacturers and capital to the English province.

"Below the equator," declared Mr. Hill, "there is but 5 per cent. of the world's population. Above it is the balance of the people. Our trade with Mexico and South America is trivial, but our trade with Canada is $200,000,000 a year and it should be taken care of. It is not growing as it should and we are not only losing trade, but we are losing capital and citizens as well. American capital finds it cheaper to export from Canada than it does from this country under existing laws."

Denies that She Is Dead.

Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—Virginia Delancey Burns, who asserts that she was declared dead 15 years ago by a master appointed by the surrogate of New York, appeared in the common pleas court in this city yesterday and made a claim of the share of the estate of Oneisseppi Pecalin, the husband of her father's half-sister, who died in France, March 20, 1889, leaving a will bequeathing one-twelfth of his estate to Mrs. Burns, amounting to $6,181. A part of this sum was paid in 1891 to a trust company to hold for the woman's daughter, Virginia.

Refused to Accept a Reduction.

Pittsburg, Jan. 11.—At a joint meeting yesterday of the wage committees of the manufacturers and Amalgamated Association of Window Glass Workers, a reduction in wages was refused by the employes. The workers asked the manufacturers to first form a solid organization, when a sliding scale will be presented by the union providing that wages be advanced to correspond with the selling price of glass.

More Pay for Carpenters.

Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—A wage scale to remain in force during the present year was agreed upon by representatives of the Associated Carpenters of Philadelphia and vicinity, incorporated, and the master carpenters, at a meeting held last night. The men are given 45 cents an hour, which is an increase of five cents an hour over last year's scale. The Saturday half holiday was extended to six months in the year, instead of five months as formerly. The agreement also provides that there shall be no general or sympathetic strikes.

DIED IN FIRE.

Eight Lives are Lost in a Blazing Hotel.

AT MINNEAPOLIS.

The Captain of a Hook and Ladder Company was Killed While Saving a Woman's Life.

Minneapolis, Jan. 11.—Eight persons dead of suffocation or injuries sustained in leaping from a "fireproof" hotel building, a score of persons injured and a building damaged $25,000 by fire, smoke and water, is an epitome of the rapid ravages caused by a disaster which befell the West hotel yesterday, throwing 700 guests and employes into a panic. The dead:

Fire Captain John Berwin, fell from the fourth floor to the sidewalk while attempting to save a woman's life.

W. G. Nickels, Minneapolis, suffocated in his room on sixth floor.

Thomas Summerville, Springfield, Mass., salesman for Atkins & Co., Burnside, Conn., suffocated in his room on the sixth floor.

J. E. Wolf, northwestern agent for Sperry & Alexander Co., of New York, suffocated in his room on seventh floor.

Clinton B. Lamme, New York, traveling man, suffocated in his room on seventh floor.

J. B. Peisinger, New York, traveling man, jumped from the seventh story.

Mrs. M. E. Hodges, Minneapolis, jumped from seventh story.

William Black, New York, suffocated in room.

The fire was confined to the elevator shaft and the two top floors in one corner of the building, but a dense smoke pervaded everywhere and the wild excitement which followed the first alarm hurried people into halls and out on window ledges in a frantic attempt to save themselves.

There was so much choking smoke that guests, the moment a door was opened, were compelled to crawl to the windows to avoid suffocation. Many were hurt by breaking windows with hands or feet. Many persons were not dressed when the fire started, shortly after 7 o'clock. The crowd that gathered saw the high windows at the corner of the hotel occupied by men and women with bleeding hands and feet, some dressed in negligee. Frantic cries of "don't jump" from the spectators prevented most of these persons from leaping to the pavement to escape the smoke that poured from the broken windows. The smoke spread to most all parts of the hotel, causing many persons to lose their way in the confusion. Five persons were found suffocated in their rooms after the fire was out.

Capt. John Berwin, of a hook and ladder company, having broken open a window on the seventh floor which he had reached by means of a scaling ladder, stumbled onto the body of Mrs. Emeline Barlow, an aged woman. He strapped the unconscious form to his back and started down the ladder. When midway between the seventh and sixth floors the strap broke. Bending over to balance the body for a moment, he leaned, at the risk of his life, and threw the woman toward a projecting ledge on the floor below. Apparently being revived by the fresh air or by the shock, the aged woman grasped the projection and held on. Later she was rescued. But in throwing the woman to safety Berwin lost his balance and fell to the pavement.

ANSWERED DEATH'S CALL.

President Harper, of Chicago University, Has Passed Away.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—William Rainey Harper, LL.D., president of the University of Chicago since its inception in 1891, regarded by many as the foremost Hebrew scholar in America, and equally renowned as an educator and business man, died Wednesday of cancer of the intestines at his home on the university campus. Although his death was known to be inevitable within a comparatively short time, the end of his life, due to physical exhaustion, came suddenly. He was 49 years old.

Three years ago Dr. Harper underwent an operation for appendicitis. Cancerous symptons followed recovery from this operation, and on February 22, 1905, an operation was decided on to determine the cause of severe abdominal pains. Dr. McBurny, of New York, came to Chicago expressly for the operation, in which he was assisted by Drs. Billings and Bevan, of Chicago.

It was discovered that Dr. Harper was suffering from a cancer at the head of the large intestines, and that the malady had progressed so far that an operation to remove it would be fatal to the patient. The surgeons decided that the only hope of Dr. Harper lay in medical measures. In a short time he left the hospital, knowing that his disease could not be cured and that his death must ensue within a short time.

Mrs. Tolla is Reprieved.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Tolla was yesterday granted a reprieve of 30 days by Gov. Stokes. Mrs. Quackenboss, a New York lawyer, appeared before the board of pardons in Mrs. Tolla's behalf. Mrs. Jessie B. Partlon, of Cincinnati, was here with petitions containing 181,000 names.

A Veteran Officeholder Dies.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Franklin Moore, employed in the pension office, died yesterday. Mr. Moore was 88 years of age and had served 42 years in the pension office.

SEEKS LIBERTY.

A Noted Criminal Asks a Federal Court to Release Him from Prison.

Boston, Jan. 12.—Taking advantage of a legal technicality, William C. Woodward, known to the police of many countries as "Big Hawley," and one of the world's most notorious criminals, on Thursday, through counsel, filed in the United States district court a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Woodward has been an inmate of the Massachusetts state prison at Charlestown for four years and a half and now seeks to be freed.

When Woodward was sentenced he had been convicted on four out of ten indictments charging use of the mails in a scheme to defraud. On three of the indictments he was given sentences of 18 months each and on the fourth a sentence of six months. Having served the three 18 months' sentences, he now petitions for his release on the ground that a sentence of six months cannot be served in the prison at Charlestown, as the law provides that the minimum sentence on which a convicted man can be sent to the state prison is one year.

The petition for the writ is returnable on Saturday next.

Woodward has been arrested 37 times. He is 42 years old and is said to have made more than $1,000,000 through questionable means. He is a native of Memphis, Tenn., and is the son of a former justice of the state supreme court. Early in 1897 he was released from Sing Sing after serving a sentence of five years for swindling a New York capitalist out of $100,000.

THOSE BOGUS CERTIFICATES.

Another Arrest Is Made in the Norfolk & Western Affair.

New York, Jan. 12.—Following the arrest yesterday of Samuel Humphreys, a "newspaper writer," on a charge of selling a bogus certificate of 100 shares of the Norfolk & Western Railway Co to a dealer in securities in this city, it was learned that 500 of the bogus certificates were printed and that the operations appear to have been planned on a large scale. As only four or five of the certificates have been discovered, and each of them is for 100 shares, with an aggregate market value of about $8,000, it is evident that the amount realized by the operators is very large if they have disposed of many of the certificates.

Counsel for the Hamilton Bank Note Co. made a statement that in August last that company lithographed 500 stock certificates of the Norfolk & Western and delivered them to C. Augustus Seton & Co., of this city. Later, counsel said, the bank note company ascertained that the order for the certificates was given by Seton and that he had presented an order authorizing him to have the certificates made for the railway company. The statement also affirmed that the officers of the bank note company assisted the railway company in bringing the guilty parties to justice.

A Slaughter at Tiflis.

Tiflis, Caucasia, Jan. 13.—Nearly 350 persons were killed or injured as an outcome of an attack made by Cossacks Thursday on the Armenian seminary here, following the throwing of two bombs from that institution at a passing patrol. Four Cossacks were wounded and a boy was killed by the explosion of the bombs. Artillery was immediately called up and the seminary was surrounded and shelled. The building soon burst into flames and the bombs and cartridges stored therein exploded.

To Reorganize the Department.

Columbus, O., Jan. 13.—It is announced on apparently good authority that a proposition is pending to reorganize the entire state railroad department. The proposition is being considered of dealing with the railroads just as they are doing in Wisconsin, which plan has enabled La Follette to deal with the railroads and with rate discrimination in a drastic manner. This means that State Railroad Commissioner Morris will be succeeded by three commissioners.

Withdrew His Plea.

Washington, Jan. 13.—In the criminal court Friday George W. Beavers, indicted jointly with ex-State Senator George E. Green, of New York, and W. D. Doremus for conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with postoffice contracts, withdrew his plea of not guilty entered some months ago and with the permission of the court filed a demurrer to the indictment. Green and Doremus were arraigned and filed pleas in abatement.

A Fatal Wreck.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 13.—A fatal wreck occurred on the New York Central railroad at Liverpool, five miles north of this city, last night as a result of which Edwin Parish, of Oswego, a brakeman, is dead and four other members of the crew, all from Oswego, are injured. A freight train bound north ran into an engine and caboose.

Refused to Grant a Stay.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—The supreme court of Mexico has declined to grant a stay of execution in the case of three Americans, Maston, Richardson and Hart, recently sentenced at Chihuahua to be shot for murdering people to secure life insurance. Executive clemency will now be asked.

Asked for a Receivership.

New York, Jan. 12.—Directors of the Empire Life Insurance Co filed a request in the supreme court yesterday that a receiver be appointed for the company in proceedings for its voluntary dissolution. The company is a co-operative association with offices in this city and has about 2,000 policy holders.

The Ninth Victim Dies.

Minneapolis, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Samuel Spiesberger, of Chicago, died at the city hospital yesterday, making the ninth victim of the West hotel fire.

M. FALLIERES THE FAVORITE

President of Senate May Be Elected to Succeed Loubet as President of France.

Paris.—Everybody knows that when the senate and deputies meet to elect a new president of the republic for seven years, M. Loubet will not be a candidate. He is tired of office, is growing old—he was 67 on December 31 last—and is determined to spend the rest of his days in unofficial peace. Who, then, will be elected?

M. Fallieres, the president of the senate, may be looked upon as first favorite, partly by reason of his office, and partly because he is known to be

M. FALLERIES.
(President of French Senate Who May Succeed Loubet.)

sound; known, too, not to be too ambitious, and because he is distinctively decorative. M. Fallieres' election—and this is a great point in his favor—would not be too displeasing to the reactionary party. He is a large land owner and fond of entertaining members of the older nobility of France. Mme. Fallieres is also very popular, and the wife of a new president is not unnaturally of the first importance.

Next in favor to M. Fallieres comes M. Leon Bourgeios. He has been president of the chamber of deputies, premier, and was a member of M. Loubet's cabinet in 1892. M. Bourgeois is 54, and for a man who is comparatively young his years of office of one kind or another make a surprising total. The main thing against M. Leon Bourgeois' chances of success is that he is a widower. But it has been rumored that he intends marrying again.

M. Doumer, the president of the chamber and former governor of Indo-China, ranks third in the list of probable presidents. He has been minister of finance and minister of the interior, and has a charming personality. But he is perhaps too active and pushing a man for the position, and his political opinions—he is a radical republican—are rather too clearly defined for those of a would-be president, who must, above all things, be politically neutral.

In the outsiders' class, M. Berteaux has lost ground by his sensational resignation from his post at the war office. He is a genial man and a rich one, and is very popular among his fellow deputies, but the senators are said to distrust him.

M. Paul Deschanel had a very strong chance indeed in 1899. Now he has no chance whatever. He has simply dropped out of the running and nobody, not even M. Deschanel himself, knows exactly why this has happened.

M. Combes' chances are extremely poor. Lastly, one must not overlook M. Jean Dupuy, whose influence as the proprietor of "Le Petit Parisien" is widespread, and who is known to have been canvassing.

PORTRAIT OF HANDEL.

Medallion of Famous Musical Composer Recently Discovered in a British Museum.

London.—The above medallion portrait of Handel, the famous musical composer, was discovered recently in Sir John Soane's museum, Lincoln's Inn Fields, London. It had been hanging in an ante-room for years, but had never attracted attention. It is especially interesting because it is evidently true to life, the powdered wig and the evidences of pose being absent. The sculptor, George J. Frampton, R. A., examined the medallion and said he was confident that it was taken from life, and believes it to be the model for a monument. Certain details caused him to believe it to be the work of the Sculptor Roubiliac. The curator of the museum reports that he can find no record of how the portrait came into Soane's possession. The portrait first appeared in print in the London Musical Times during the last month.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PAINT.

Important Memorandum.—The paint is the most important factor in painting. quality of paint, costing say $60.00 ($40.00 labor, $20.00 paint), will last five years. The same paints applied by a duaber ($40.00 labor, $20.00 paint), will last only two years. Thus the "per-year-cost" of the good painter's job is $12.00—the poor painter's, $20.00.

Above all, USE GOOD PAINT!

The oil! linseed oil! Just pure linseed is the "life"—the one great requisite of good paint for which there is no substitute—and the sure way to get the pure, fresh linseed oil is to buy the oil and separately. For every gallon of Kinloch Paint buy one gallon of linseed oil. This makes two gallons of paint, ready for use. You then know that the paint you're putting on your house is alive—"the genuine oil is in it," and paint is not paint unless it contains 50% of really pure oil. We will further explain the virtues of Kinloch Paint if you will call and see us.

Kinloch HOUSE PAINT

A detestable fault is one that we can trace to somebody we dislike.

Indigestion Overcome.

Indigestion is easily overcome by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, because this remedy digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest—allows it to recuperate and grow strong again. Kodol relieves Indigestion, Belching of Gas, Sour Stomach, Heart Burn, etc., and enables the digestive organs to transform all foods into the king of rich red blood that makes health and strengh. Sold by R. C. Dodson. Ask for the 1906 Kodol Almanac and 200 year Calendar."

It is easier to talk about ruling mankind with love than it is to do it.

Greatly in Demand.

Nothing is more in demand than a medicine which meets modern requirements for a blood and system cleanser, such as Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are just what you need to cure stomach and liver troubles. Try them. At L. Taggart's drug store, 25c, guaranteed.

They who worry much work little. Give fretful thoughts the busy signal.

Paying a Debt of Gratitude.

Mr. Mott Allen, foreman, Union City, (Pa.) Chair Factory, says: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism for more than eight months; at times had to get up at 11 o'clock and stay up the balance of the night; could not dress myself without the aid of my wife; am now entirely cured, and by the use of only one 50c bottle of Crocker's Rhumatic Remedy. R. C. Dodson. 21sept3m.

Spoiled Her Beauty.

Harriet Howard, of 209 W. 34th st. New York at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble: She writes: "I had Salt Rheum or Eczema for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. 25c at L. Taggart's drug store.

BRYAN LETTERS; ROOSEVELT BEARS.

These Two Big Newspaper Features Have Been Secured for the Sunday Courier.

Hon. William J. Bryan is making a trip around the world. He has already reached China. During the progress of his tour he will be entertained by royality—he was the guest a few days ago of the Mikado of Japan—and he will have unusual opportunities to observe the customs, habits and laws of the various foreign countries. He will write one letter a week, about two columns in lenght to a selected group of papers in this country. The Courier will publish these letters. That this is an extraordinary feature, no one will doubt; and that the Courier was able to obtain it is a source of gratification to that wide-awake paper. Regardless of Mr. Bryan's views, he is always interesting, and as he is a trained newspaper writer his letters undoubtedly will be both entertaining and educational.

The Courier has also obtained another remarkable feature. The Roosevelt Bears. The Bears are traveling from the Rockies to New York and thence to foreign countries. They are accompanied by reporters who record their queer antics. Their names are Teddy B. and Teddy G. The first instalment of this extraordinary series of stories appeared in the Courier January 7th. The Bryan articles will begin Sunday, January 14th.

A Grim Tragedy

Is daily enacted in thousands of homes, as Death claims, in each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oaklandon, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and to-day she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c and $1.00 by L. Taggart druggist. Trial bottles free.

It's the fault of the player if an upright piano is a downright nuisance.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Catharties gripe, weaken—dissipate, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. Sold by R. C. Dodson. "Ask for the 1906 Kodol Almanac and 200 year Calendar."

Four Simple Rules

Follow Them and Health, Happiness and Prosperity Will Be Yours.

If one would be healthy; happy and prosperous, follow these four simple rules. (1) Keep the bowels open every day. (2) Chew your food slowly and thoroughly. (3) Avoid indigestible foods. (4) If there are any symptoms of stomach troubles, take Mi-o-na before each meal until cured.

No matter how many years you may have suffered with stomach troubles or how worried by sleeples-ness, nervousness, loss of appetite, furred tongue, specks before the eyes, headaches, backaches, weakness and debility, indigestion or other ills that are caused by a weak stomach. you can be cured by the faithful use of Mi-o-na.

Take one of the little tablets before each meal with the fixed determination to get the most benefit out of it.

Mi-o na is not a fanciful experiment, it is not a patent medicine, it is not a cure all. It is a scientific remedy recommended but for one trouble,—weakness of the digestive organs. It is a permanent cure, and sold by L. Taggart under a guarantee that it costs nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it.

When Mi-o-na has been used for a few days, the digestive system will be so greatly improved that all the food eaten is converted into nutrition, so that nourishment and health are given to the whole system and there is a rapid increase in weight, strength and spirits.

Notice of an Election to Increase the Indebtedness of Emporium Borough.

An Ordinance Providing for an Election to Authorize an Increase of Indebtedness to Extend the Common Sewers.

BE IT ORDAINED and enacted by the Chief Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Emporium and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same.

Section 1.—That the corporate authorities of the said Borough of Emporium desire to increase the indebtedness of said Borough for the purpose of extending the common sewers in the streets of said borough where none are now laid.

Section 2.—That notice shall be given for thirty days by weekly advertisement in the Cameron County Press and Emporium Independent of an election to be held at the usual places of holding municipal elections in said Borough on the 20th day of February, A. D., 1906, being the third Tuesday of the month for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors of the said Borough to such increase of indebtedness and the publication of this Ordinance shall constitute such notice.

Section 3.—That in compliance with the third section of the act of April 20th, 1874 and the amendments thereto it is hereby stated that the amount of the last assessed valuation of property subject to taxation in said borough is two hundred and ninety-five thousand four hundred and twenty-two dollars, that the amount of the existing debt of said borough is four thousand dollars, that the amount of the proposed increase of indebtedness is seven thousand dollars, that the percentage of the proposed increase of indebtedness .02366 percent. and that the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be incurred is the extension of the Common and Public Sewers into streets in said borough where no sewers are now laid.

Section 4.—The Secretary of the Borough Council is hereby authorized and directed to arrange that sufficient tickets be prepared in the manner and form required by law for the use of the electors at said election.

Enacted and ordained January 8th, 1906.
C. J. GOODNOUGH, Secretary.
Approved, January 12th, 1906.
W. H. HOWARD, Chief Burgess.

Amendment to Ordinance No. 27

AN Ordinance to amend an Ordinance number twenty-seven, entitled an Ordinance to prohibit the casting or leaving of any boxes, barrels brick, lumber, wood, ashes, garbage, filth or any substance of any kind upon the public roads, streets, lanes, alleys or sidewalks within the Borough of Emporium by adding a section prohibiting the placing or leaving in the said streets of the Borough of Emporium any wagon, sled or other vehicle, bill board, ash pile, refuse piles or signs, and to prevent the burning of waste of any kind in said streets and to provide for the removal of the same and for the collection of the costs of removal thereof and providing penalties for the violation of this Ordinance.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Chief Burgess and Council of the Borough of Emporium and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same

Section 1.—That Ordinance No. 27 be amended by adding thereto a section number five as follows:

Section 5.—The placing or leaving of wagons sleds, sleighs, cutters or other vehicles, of bill boards, ash piles, refuse piles of any kind, the burning of waste of any kind and the erection of signs in the public streets, alleys or lanes within the Borough of Emporium is prohibited.

The Chief Burgess shall upon knowledge or notice of the violation of this Ordinance, proceed at once to cause the prohibited articles or obstruction to be removed and prosecute the person or persons violating this Ordinance and the penalties and provisions of section two of the Ordinance amended shall apply.

Ordained and enacted January 8th, 1906.
C. J. GOODNOUGH, Secretary.
Approved Jan 12th, 1906.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

County Treasurer.

County Treasurer Cummings reports every thing in good shape for 1906 and with pleasure we wish to add:

There's many good and loyal men,
From Cameron county sprung,
Who for themselves have made a name,
That stood on every tongue.

In honesty and uprightness,
They've always been found true,
To the people of the county,
And our own Red, White and Blue.

Their names we speak with warmth and pride.
For all the good they've done,
In sustaining this good name,
The County of Cameron.

So let us speak some words of praise,
As gladly we refer,
To our honored fellow citizen,
The County Treasurer.

His work is strictly up-to-date,
His business smoothly running,
So heres long life and happiness,
To our Treasurer John Cummings.

JOHN F. SULLIVAN.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Contributions invited. That which you would like to see in this department, let us know by postal card or letter, personally.

Mrs. F. H. Murry, of St. Marys, visited relatives and friends in town Tuesday.

Reuben Andrus and Geo. Leavitt, of Beechwood, were PRESS business callers on Saturday.

Mrs. Corwin, of Sunbury, is visiting relatives in town, guest of Hon. and Mrs. I. K. Hockley.

Hon. Josiah Howard went to Harrisburg Sunday evening and entered upon his duties in the legislature.

Chas. E. Crandell and wife went to Williamsport last Saturday, to visit relatives and friends, returning Monday morning.

Mrs. Bingeman, who has been very ill at the heme of her daughter Mrs. Major Dorvall, has returned her home, West Fifth street,

The Pennsylvania R. R., now being on a cash basis, are reducing the size of all newspaper time cards, as will be noticed in this issue of PRESS.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fritz, of Harrisburg, arrived in Emporium last week to visit with friends for a few days. They are guests at New Warner.

William Gauntz, who is in the employ of Furnace Supply Co., was a PRESS caller on Monday and renewed his father's paper for another year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Harris are visiting in New York City this week. Mr. Harris will take advantage of the opportunity to select early spring goods.

Miss Eva Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Marshall, who makes her home with Mr. W. H. Cramer and family, visited friends at Olean, N. Y., last week.

Mrs. A. L. Wright has returned from visiting her husband, at Buffalo, where he is employed in car shops. They contemplate moving to Buffalo in the near future.

Mr. Richard Murry, of town, visited his sister, Mrs. Martin B. Epley, at Sinnamahoning, on Monday. It was Dick's 19th anniversary and he took a day off.

William Gilmartin, of Johnsonburg, was in town on Tuesday and made the PRESS a call, and as a result he will read the paper during 1906.

Miss Evers, of Beechwood, was a PRESS visitor on Saturday and renewed her father's paper for another year. Mr. Evers has been in poor health ever since his painful accident several months ago.

Thos. Morrissey is quite ill with stomach trouble.

E. L. Mason has sold his motor cycle to F. W. Niering of St. Marys.

John Coyle is seriously ill with typhoid fever, at his residence on Fourth street.

Eugene Teater, is again laid up with his leg. He has not been able to work much for the last six months.

The hardwood mill commences to cut hardwood this week. They have a large stsck of hardwood for this season.

Mrs. E. L. Mason, of Wellsville, N. Y., returned home on Monday after a two weeks visit with Emporium friends.

Max Balcom, who has been clerk in First National Bank, has gone to Buffalo to take a course in a business college. Good boy, Max.

Some friend very thoughtfully and kindly sends us a copy of the Huntington, (Cal.) Beach News. We suspect Mr. Casper Sipple is the guilty party. However, thanks; may you enjoy the fine weather and fruit.

An adopted son, George, of Walter Clark, died of diphtheria last Sunday night. Funeral took place on Monday at Sizerville—private. This makes three deaths from diphtheria in Emporium this winter. Hope it may be the last.

Mrs. John F. Parsons and sister, Mr. Elwell are enjoying and extended visit in Philadelphia. The first named lady has promishd the PRESS to give her impression and ideas of the million dollar play houses and how it feels to ride in the subway. We expect an interesting letter.

Girls Who Don't Succeed.

The girl who takes up work as a temporary occupation with her mind on the state of matrimony.

The girl who expects to begin at the top instead of slowly climbing there.

The girl who makes excuses for herself when a boy's pride would come to his aid and help him to overcome the difficulty which she tries to evade.

The girl who keeps her eye on the clock fearful that she may give her employer a moment or two overtime.

The girl who is always doleful and down on her luck.

The girl who spends her nights at parties and arrives at the office in the morning weary and out of humor.

The girl who expects to carry on a flirtation or two coincidentally with her work.

The girl who tells every one she doesn't have to work, but is only doing it to make extra pocket money.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

WANTED.—A girl for general house work. Apply to Mrs. W. H. Howard, Sixth street.

C. B. Howard & Co., have received from the Pacific Coast what is perhaps the finest lot of RED CEDAR shingles that ever came to Cameron county.

WANTED—Bright, honest young man from Emporium to prepare for paying position in Government Mail Service. Box One, Cedar Rapids, Ia. 47-8t,

John B. Stetson University, DeLand, Florida, Lincoln Hulley, Ph. D. President, has received a gift this year of $17,000 for current expenses from John B. Stetson, of Philadelphia.

Miss Grace Walker of this place will play a violin solo in Miss Howard's unique entertainment, "Picturesque Song," which will be given at the New Opera House on Thursday evening, Jan. 25th. Miss Walker will also play two obligatos with the Harmonic Quartette, which gives the vocal numbers of "Picuresque Song."

The members of the Harmonic Quartette, who will be heard in the "Picturesque Song" programme at the New Opera House, on January 25th, are wel known church and concert soloists of Buffalo N. Y. The churches which these singers represent are the following: Saint Paul's Cathedral, Westminister Presbyterian, and Unitarian Church of our Father. Miss Howard, the deviser of "Picturesque Song," is the organist and director at the Church of our Father. That prophets are not always without honor in their own country is proved by the many engagements that the Harmonic Quartette has had in its home city.

Guessing Business.

The spring if not severe will be unusually mild. During the summer months there will be a marked increase in temperature. As heretofore, June 21st will be the longest day. The weather will be unusually warm for the insurance companies; there will be a frost for the passholders on the railroads beginning January 1. The proper time to sow seeds will be in the spring; crops should be gathered at harvest time, eggs will be plenty in the theatrical business, the corn crop will be about the same if No. 5 feet are put in No. 3 shoes. In case of a lack of rain there is every indication of a prolonged drought; topers should reform and keep on the water wagon, heavy winds will blow at the opening of the legislature; the plum crop will not be as plentiful as heretofore.—Exchange.

WANTED:—To appoint resident agents in Cameron county, Pa., to represent our full line of Lightning Rods. For full particulars address Hum & Leatherman, 103 Market Sts., Pittsburg, Pa. 42-4t.

Sickening Shivering Fits.

Of Ague and Malaria, can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure tonic medicine; of especial benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is much to be preferred to Quinine, having none of this drug's bad after effects. E. S. Munday, of Henrietta, Tex., writes: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. At L. Taggart's drug store; price 50c, guaranteed.

A Liquid Cold Cure.

For coughs and colds no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the Liquid Cold Cure. It is different from all others—better, because it expels all cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Gives strength to weak lungs. Affords immediate relief in Croup, Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc. Children love it. Sold by R. C. Dodson. Ask for the 1906 Kodol Almanac and 200 year Calendar."

"GET THE HABIT"

STORIES OF THE SECRET SERVICE

THE LINCOLN TOMB ROBBERS

Being an Account of the Attempted Desecration of the Grave of the Martyr President at Springfield in 1876, and the Capture and Conviction of a Gang of Counterfeiters That Preceded It.

By CAPTAIN PATRICK D. TYRRELL

[Copyright, 1905, by Marion G. Scheitlin.]

PART II.—Continued.

Besides this bond of intermarriage there was a strong property tie connecting the counterfeiting principals. Nelson Driggs, whose brother kept a hotel in Jersey City which was a rendezvous for "coney men," had $40,000 in cash, 28,000 acres of land in Texas and other property. Ben Boyd had means in plenty, as did McCartney and several others. They were men of good habits in point of abstemiousness, and many of them lived Jekyll and Hyde lives with such success that in their respective communities they were respected members of society while making and shoving the "queer." Many of them were men of education. Boyd had a magnificent library and was a student. Few of them, during the reputable periods of their careers, engaged in business that was not honorable, among them being farmers, contractors, professional men and an editor.

To this rule, however, there were two or three exceptions. One of these was James Kinealy, who, at the time of this narrative, kept the "Hub" saloon at 294 West Madison street, Chicago, with Terrence Mullen as a partner. Both Kinealy and Mullen had for years held close communion with the counterfeiters of the central west, and their saloon, while orderly enough, was the general Chicago rendezvous of dozens of the most desperate and accomplished counterfeiters in the country. In St. Louis a saloon of similar character was run by Fred Biebusch, one of the most extensive dealers in bogus currency in the world, of whose career and final capture I shall tell in a subsequent narrative.

The same men that frequented the "Hub" in Chicago were at home in Biebusch's in St. Louis. The halfway station was the saloon in Lincoln, Ill., kept by Robert Splane, a headquarters for the large band of "koniackers" that lived in and near Lincoln at that time. The principal members of the Lincoln band were Benjamin T. Sheridan, farm owner; James L. Fox, Sr. and Jr., contractors; Joseph de Haven, farmer; Thomas J. Sharp, editor of the Statesman, published in Lincoln; Nathan L. Curtis, Sharp's outside man; Robert Splane, saloon keeper, and Vine G. Williams, a bartender. All of these men were intimately associated with Kinealy and Mullen in Chicago and Biebusch in St. Louis, as well as with Nelson Driggs, Ben Boyd, Pete McCartney and many other somewhat less prominent. Another member of the band was John Hughes, an all-around criminal and boodle carrier for Charles Stadtfeldt while the latter was shoving the "queer" made from Boyd's plates.

The incarceration of Ben Boyd in the penitentiary had seriously crippled the counterfeiting industry of the country, and especially among the devotees of the calling who were operating in Illinois. Nearly all the bogus currency shoved in the middle west had been printed from Boyd's plates and handled by Driggs. During the winter of 1875-76, when it became apparent that the evidence against these two arch-conspirators was sufficient to bring about their incarceration, there began a series of conferences of the "koniackers" in Chicago, St. Louis and Lincoln, at which was discussed the prospective serious effect on the counterfeiting business of the locking up of its best plate cutter. The different bands which had been fed from the Boyd plates became more desperate as the cutting off of their source of supply became more certain, and when, finally, Boyd passed behind the gray stone walls of the Joliet penitentiary there was much wailing and gnashing of teeth among the precious lot of criminals that infested the Mississippi valley.

To add to their woes, eight months after the capture of Boyd in Fulton, Irvine White, another expert engraver of counterfeit plates, had been arrested in New Jersey, stopping this secondary source of supply. The dealers of Chicago, St. Louis and Lincoln could, therefore, secure no "coney" money worth the handling, and the smaller dealers, from the Canadian line to the gulf of Mexico, were sending in orders for bad money that could not be filled. The only plate available for use at the time was the one of a $10 note of the Bank of Richmond, Ind. This was what was known as a skeleton plate—that is, so made that the part bearing the name of the bank was mortised in, allowing the insertion of the name of another bank, the rest of the note being the same. Counterfeits of the Lafayette and Muncie, Ind., banks had been printed from this plate, but this counterfeit had become worthless on account of the worn condition of the plate. The Richmond "10s" were so well known as to be practically unpassable.

Peter McCartney was at large, but was not inclined to divide the fruits of his labors with the Lincoln crowd. Charles F. Ulrich, another cutter, had been released from the Ohio penitentiary, but his release was not generally known and he was not disposed immediately to resume operations. With a knowledge of these facts it can readily be understood why the straits to which the counterfeiters were reduced were desperate. The release of Boyd was an absolute necessity, to be accomplished at any cost.

For months the members of this most cunning and desperate band had been whipping their brains for feasible plans to effect the release of their pal. None that passed muster in the criminal council had been suggested. The secret service, knowing that every energy of the criminals would be strained to free Boyd, but having no knowledge of the plans suggested, worked diligently to enmesh the known members at large on counterfeiting charges and in so doing made a special effort to trap John Hughes, who for a dozen years had successfully passed and dealt in counterfeit money, besides taking side excursions into other paths of crime. Sufficient evidence against Hughes had been gathered to secure an indictment by the federal grand jury in 1874, but for a year and a half he had eluded the shrewdest men in the secret service.

At that time I often secured information from a man named Lewis C Swegles. He was what we then termed a "roper" or stool pigeon. Swegles was the son of the first auditor of the state of Michigan—the black sheep in a fine family—but a man who had been of considerable value to the secret service on account of his intimacy with criminals.

I had been working to locate Hughes, but had been unsuccessful until August, 1876, when Swegles informed me of his whereabouts. Starting with the information given by Swegles, I soon found and arrested Hughes in the "Hub" saloon at 294 West Madison street, previously mentioned as having been kept by Jim Kinealy and Terry Mullen. Hughes was arraigned and deposited $2,000 to secure his appearance for trial the following January.

In the meantime Swegles, whose identity and connection with the secret service was a most carefully guarded secret, was working to ingratiate himself into the confidence of the counterfeiting band that made its headquarters at the "Hub" while in Chicago. He confided to Hughes that he had served time in a western prison for horse stealing, but that he was anxious to forsake the crudities of horse stealing and other common lines of crime for the refinements of dealing in counterfeit money. Swegles, by clever dissembling, was successful in convincing Hughes that he was promising material for an addition to the ranks of the "coney men."

I was fully aware that Swegles was working to win the confidence of the counterfeiters that met at the "Hub," but it was about two months before I had any other communication from my "roper" that was of importance. He then confided to me that the band had under way a sensational plot—not along counterfeiting lines—but to steal the body of Abraham Lincoln and hold it for a large ransom. Accustomed as I was to the daring operations of these men, the audacity of this plot startled me. Swegles mentioned $200,000 as the amount the conspirators had fixed as the price of the return of the body. For a time I found it difficult to convince myself that these men, cunning and daredevil as they had proved themselves to be in other crimes, would actually attempt to carry out a plot so bold and which struck so deeply at the roots of one of the country's deepest sentiments—its love for Lincoln and its reverence for all of him that was earthly.

But the situation permitted the indulgence of no sentiment. The information given me by Swegles had in previous instances been accurate, and I had no reason even to surmise that he was playing me false in this case or that he had allowed himself to be gulled by Hughes and Mullen. Besides, my informant had given as one of the motives for the proposed crime the desire for the release of Ben Boyd, which I knew to be a consderation of the utmost importance to the men whose operations had been so abruptly curtailed by the plate cutter's incarceration.

The moment was one for action, even at the risk of finding later that the secret service had been led into unnecessary activity by misinformation. My informant had learned that certain St. Louis men, whose names he did not know, were parties to the plot. Previously a similar plot, emanating from the same sources, had been revealed to Chief of Police Wilkinson, of Springfield. In this plan James Kinealy had evidently been the promoter, and had decided to use the Lincoln counterfeiting contingent as his agents. Thomas J. Sharp, editor of the Statesman; Nathin L. Curtis, his assistant, and Vive G. Williams, a bartender of Lincoln, as the first step, opened a saloon in Springfield, which they made their counterfeiting headquarters as well as the place from which they could gather, without exciting suspicion, such information as they needed to aid them in their work of stealing the body of Lincoln.

From the facts that the sum of ransom money proposed in this plot and the later sum were the same and that the interests of all the men in both plots were closely allied, there was little doubt that one man had conceived the scheme to release Boyd, and there was also little doubt that the one man was James Kinealy. He was capable of concocting and trying to carry out such a plot.

The dream of the easy acquisition of $200,000 led the counterfeiters who had opened the saloon in Springfield into the lavish expenditure of money and dissipation. In one of these bouts Thomas Sharp confided to a woman of the town of Springfield that he expected soon to become one of the beneficiaries of the $200,000 ransom fund and intimated to her the plan by which the money was to be secured. This woman informed Chief Wilkinson of the drunken boasts of her admirer. Wilkinson immediately took steps to place additional guards over the Lincoln tomb and took such other precautions as indicated to the conspirators that their plan could not be carried out. It was in this first plot that the leaden casket containing the body of Lincoln was to be sunk in the Sangamon river till its hiding place should be revealed by Ben Boyd.

After coming into possession of the information concerning the second plot I sent Swegles back to Hughes to keep in touch with the movements of the conspirators as closely as possible. He succeeded so well in this that he was chosen to be one of the men to engage actively in the work, and the details of the plan were intrusted to him without reservation. He was to furnish the light spring wagon in which the casket was to be conveyed from Springfield. The plan to sink the casket in the Sangamon river, proposed in the first plot, had been abandoned, and instead the body was to be hauled swiftly from Springfield by relays of horses into the sand dunes of northern Indiana and buried. The conspirators calculated that the shifting of these dunes due to the action of the wind would soon obliterate all trace of wagon tracks and signs of burial and make a hiding place absolutely past the power of any man to find.

The ghouls were to keep track of the place of burial by taking measurements from some natural object, such as a tree, transmitting the key to the burial spot to Ben Boyd in Joliet. The negotiations for the return of the body, in exchange for his own release and the payment of $200,000 ransom, were to be conducted by Boyd on behalf of the counterfeiters. In order to render the opening of these negotiations the easier, the conspirators calculated, a plan would have to be devised by which the federal authorities could be easily convinced that Boyd could actually furnish the information concerning the location of the body—in short, they foresaw that Boyd would have to be in position to prove to the authorities that he had accurate knowledge of its whereabouts.

In order to overcome this obstacle it was decided that a copy of an English or some other foreign newspaper should be secured, a foreign paper being decided upon so that Boyd could convince the government representatives that the copy of the paper of which he had a part was not one that could have been obtained in any other way than the one claimed by him. This newspaper was to be torn into two pieces, in an irregular fashion. One piece was to be left in the Lincoln tomb, where it was certain to be found when the discovery of the loss of the body was made, and the other piece was to be sent to Boyd in prison. After the discovery of the work of the ghouls Boyd was to let it be known that he could solve the mystery and, to prove he told the truth, could produce the missing part of the foreign paper which, of course, would demonstrate to the authorities that the tomb robbers had sent Boyd the paper and with it the key to the location of the body.

THE SON OF HIS FATHER.

Irate Pedagogue Cleverly Reproved by His Sagacious Offspring.

A professor of mathematics in a leading New England college had been much annoyed by the students coming to class without their textbooks. Various reasons were given. One man said that some one had borrowed his book, relates Judge.

"That's no excuse," said the irate professor. "Hereafter your work and your book are to be here. Any man who fails to bring them will be marked zero. No excuse of any kind will be taken."

The professor's son was a member of this class, and was the first one to be called up at the next recitation.

"Adam, problem 14 at the board," called the professor.

"Pardon me, professor,' said his son; "but I haven't my book."

"Haven't your book?" roared the professor. He was doubly angry because his own son was the first offender. "Didn't you hear what I said yesterday?"

"Yes, professor; but my father borrowed my book last night, and he didn't bring it back."

"No one knows what awful torture I suffered with Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble, until I got cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. This grand remedy drove the Rheumatism out of my body, nothing else ever did me any good. Dodd's Kidney Pills are worth one hundred times their price, for they have made me, though I am fifty-seven years old, a new being. I am in better shape now than I have been for many years, and I owe it all to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

AWFUL ITCHING ON SCALP.

Hair Finally Had to Be Cut to Save Any—Scalp Now in Good Condition—Cured by Cuticura.

"I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment for a diseased scalp, dandruff, and constant falling of hair. Finally I had to cut my hair to save any at all. Just at that time I read about the Cuticura Remedies. Once every week I shampooed my hair with the Cuticura Soap, and I used the Ointment twice a week. In two months' time my hair was long enough to do up in French twist. That is now five years ago, and I have a lovely head of hair. The length is six inches below my waist line, my scalp is in very good condition, and no more dandruff or itching of the scalp. I used other remedies that were recommended to me as good, but with no results. Mrs. W. F. Griess, Clay Center, Neb., Oct. 23, 1905."

TROUBLE OVER A POTATO.

Spud Gathered In by Wrong Diner Puts Waitress in a Predicament.

"I had a queer experience in a restaurant the other day," said a Denver lawyer, according to the Post. "The waitress brought my order and that of a man across the aisle from me at the same time. There was a small baked potato with my order. I supposed it was a 'side dish,' so I began to eat it. A minute or so later the girl came back to me.

"'Say,' she said, 'where's that potato? It wasn't for you.'

"'I'm sorry,' I replied, 'but I've eaten most of it. The rest is here on my plate.' The girl went over and talked a moment with the other man. Then she came back.

"'He wants his potato,' she said. 'I can't get him no other on his order.'

"'But, my dear girl,' I said, 'the potato is practically eaten.' I was getting embarrassed.

"'What am I going to do?' she asked.

"'I don't know,' I growled. 'Now stop bothering me about that potato.'

"She consulted the other man again. Then she took a position between us. 'Youse two fellers can settle this potato matter between youse,' she said, and off she went.

"The people sitting near seemed to be enjoying the mix-up so much that I got up and left. I'll eat no more restaurant potatoes unless I'm absolutely sure they are mine."

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION.

How Food Headed Off the Insidious Disease.

The happy wife of a good old-fashioned Mich. farmer says:

"In the spring of 1902 I was taken sick—a general breaking down, as it were. I was excessively nervous, could not sleep well at night, my food seemed to do me no good, and I was so weak I could scarcely walk across the room.

"The doctor said my condition was due to overwork and close confinement and that he very much feared that consumption would set in. For several months I took one kind of medicine after another, but with no good effect—in fact, I seemed to grow worse.

"Then I determined to quit all medicines, give up coffee and see what Grape-Nuts food would do for me. I began to eat Grape-Nuts with sugar and cream and bread and butter three times a day.

"The effect was surprising! I began to gain flesh and strength forthwith, my nerves quieted down and grew normally steady and sound, sweet sleep came back to me. In six weeks' time I discharged the hired girl and commenced to do my own housework for a family of six. This was two years ago, and I am doing it still, and enjoy it." Electricity by Direct Process to Revolutionize World

By THOMAS A. EDISON.

We are groping on the verge of another great epoch in the world's history. It would not surprise me any morning to wake up and learn that some one, or some group, of the 300,000 scientific men who are investigating all over the earth has seized the secret of electricity by direct process and begun another practical revolution of human affairs.

It can be done. It will be done. I expect to see it before I die.

The first great change in the production of electricity will abolish the carrying of coal for that purpose. Instead of digging gross material out of the earth, loading it on cars and carrying it, say 500 miles, there to put it under a boiler, burn it and so get power, we shall set up plants at the mouths of the mines, generate the power there and transmit it wherever it is needed by copper wires.

From a practical standpoint the most tremendous thing in the problem of electricity is the fact that we only get about 15 per cent. of the energy of the coal we burn. Eighty-five per cent. goes up the chimney.

Now if we could find a way to get the energy out of the coal by some direct process, without wasting 85 per cent. of it would so multiply and so cheapen electric power as to inaugurate a new epoch in the history of the world.

Some day the great discovery will be made, and when it is the steam engine will be driven out of use. It will then be possible to have airships. I expect to see airships flying before my death.

Such a discovery will make it possible to drive ships across the sea by electricity at the rate of 40 or 50 miles an hour—three days across the Atlantic, from shore to shore.

The direct process will give the world electricity at such a low cost that electric light can be used by everybody, and railways can be operated at a fraction of their present expense. The city of New York could be lit as brilliantly in the nighttime as in the daytime, without any additional cost.

The human race may well look forward with hope toward the day in which the discovery will be announced, for after that the world will be greatly transformed.

Browning Among the Prophets

By DR. JENKIN LLOYD JONES.

When Canon Farrar said: "I have learned more religion from the poetry of Robert Browning than from all the books of theology I have ever read," he was stating the truth ever apparent to the sage and the saint, that the bard is ever closely allied to the prophet. Poetry is ever the vehicle of the highest revelation. The soul attuned to harmonies is in touch with the infinite. The nobler the bard the more universal his message, and universality is the gift of poetry, the witness of God in the soul of man.

Robert Browning was a bard who, to use his own phrase, "believed in soul and was very sure of God." He was a seer who apprehended truth at first hand. He verified the true function of the prophet, which is that of a spokesman, a mouthpiece of the Almighty, witnessing to the truth, justice and love which he found in his own heart corroborated by his study of nature and man.

Robert Browning could and did write delightful ballads, ringing, singing, swinging things that ravish the ear with the lilt of delightful rhythm, the charm of echoing rhymes. In these directions other masters of English poetry may, perhaps, excel him. We must travel inward if we are to discover his unique power and enter the realm in which he is unquestionably master. In this inward journey we are first impressed with Browning's profound belief in the human soul. He was not the poet of "nice people" only; he was interested in man as man. Even the rag ends and fag ends of human nature were to him not only interesting, but hopeful. His faith in freedom was profound, his enthusiasm for liberty was lifelong; he was a great democrat.

He was the forerunner of the moralists who say that with every elaboration of the social fabric ethics grows more intricate; that even psychology, the science of soul, in its higher reaches becomes sociology, the science of society.

Immigration and Its Assimilation

By WM. LLOYD GARRISON.

The question of race assimilation is simply one of respect and kindness to our fellow men. The United States presents the best example to the world of diverse peoples uniting under freedom to evolve a greater race. From the proudest to the most abject and enslaved nationalities contributions have steadily flowed in a common stream, which is a marvel of breadth and force.

The blood of the Celt, the Hebrew, the Anglo-Saxon, the Gaul, the Slav, the negro, the Asiatic, the uttermost tribes of the earth, can be found mingled in American descendants—no mean product of a noble experiment. If anything can confirm the rational theory that all the inhabitants of the globe are of a single race, varied by different environments and circumstances, it is the spectacle presented in this country. Color, custom, habit, dress, religion, the racial difference that chiefly strike the eye, are merely of the surface. At bottom a common humanity exists.

The real question is not whether races will or will not assimilate. The world process never ceases. It is whether it shall proceed lawfully and under protection of society, or be left to lust and brutality.

Assimilation never yet came from the bludgeon, not excepting the bludgeon of benevolence. If we accept in practice the declaration, which as Christians we profess to believe, that God has made of one blood all the nations of the earth to dwell together, making our country embrace the world and our countrymen all mankind, no race problem will trouble us, nor anti-immigration cruelties be evoked.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the One Remedy Particularly Suited For Feminine Ills.

To women who suffer Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold. At special periods a woman needs medicine to regulate her blood supply or her life will be a round of pain and suffering. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are absolutely the finest medicine that ever a woman took. They actually make new blood. They are good for men too—but they are good in a special way for women.

"It was three years ago last spring that my health failed me," says Mrs Arthur Conklin, of No. 5 Coldwater street, Battle Creek, Mich. "I suffered from leucorrhœa and other troubles that, I presume, were caused by the weakness it produced. I had sinking spells, nervous headaches, was weak and exhausted all the time and looked like a walking skeleton.

"My back and limbs would ache almost continually and there were days when I was absolutely helpless from sick headache. I tried one doctor after another but cannot say that they helped me at all. My liver was sluggish and I was troubled some with constipation.

"One day a physician who has now retired from practice met my husband on the street and inquired about my health. He advised my husband to get some of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for me, said they were a good medicine, better for my trouble than he could put up. I tried them, improved steadily and soon was entirely cured. As soon as the leucorrhœa was cured the headaches and other pains stopped. I am entirely well now but intend to continue to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a spring tonic."

The genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists and by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

AN ARTIST IN HIS LINE.

Merchant of the Pave Displays Genius Worthy of a Higher Calling.

A man with shrewd gray eyes walked along the busy down-town street, carefully observing everything. Suddenly he paused, then rushed toward a rain-pipe attached to a building and rammed his cane into it. The familiar squealing of a rat pierced the air, relates Youth's Companion.

All daughters of Eve within hearing lifted their skirts and fled the place. Men and boys began to crowd around. People came from across the street. Carts and cabs halted.

"Say, mister, that stick isn't long enough!" shouted a newsboy.

"Somebody go and get a terrier," suggested another.

Evidently the owner of the shrewd gray eyes did not desire advice, but intended to deal with that rat according to his own fancy. He paid not the slightest attention to the remarks, but continued vigorously to ply his cane.

"Let him come out and then set the dogs on!"

"Put your hand in and grab him by the tail!"

"Say, why don't you use the big end of that cane?"

"Blow smoke up the pipe!"

At last the star performer glanced over his shoulder—the crowd was packed and jammed behind him, and two policemen on the outskirts were struggling to make an opening—the "psychological moment" was come.

The man removed something from between his teeth, and extended it toward the crowd.

"Here you are, gentlemen!" he cried. "The cleverest invention yet made—Wilkinson's weird and wonderful patent whistle. Imitates everything from a rat to a rhinoceros! Embrace your opportunity, entertain your friends, make the children happy! Only a few left, and those going like wildfire, at ten cents apiece!"

Robbed in Church.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

Cure the Kidneys and the Pain Will Never Return.

Only one sure way to cure an aching back. Cure the cause, the kidneys.

Thousands tell of cures made by Doan's Kidney Pills. John C. Coleman, a prominent merchant of Swainsboro, Ga., says: "For several years my kidneys were affected, and my back ached day and night. I was languid, nervous and lame in the morning. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me right away, and the great relief that followed has been permanent."

of every home in the United States there should be found a bottle of Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, for Coughs, Colds and all irritations of the throat, lungs and air passages. It is easy to take, gives instant relief and cures permanently.

Generation after Generation

have pronounced Shiloh to be the safest, surest, quickest and best family cure for Colds and Coughs. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in the home. Try Shiloh and be cured, or say you were not and get your money back. Isn't this fair? Mrs. E. James, of Hibbing, Minn., says:—"There is no cure like Shiloh for Coughs, Colds, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Bronchitis or Whooping Cough. My oldest son was almost choked. The doctors could not relieve him. He used two bottles of Shiloh and was completely cured. It has no equal." 50c

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

THE LIVER QUARANTINE

"TAKING HIS MEALS OUT."

¶Hurried eating has ruined many a man's stomach. The digestion-destroying process is gradual, often unnoticed at first. But it is only a short time until the liver balks, the digestive organs give way, and almost countless ills assail the man who endeavors to economize time at the expense of his health.

¶A torpid liver causes a quarantine of the entire system. It locks in the diseased germs and body poisons and affords them full play, inviting some serious illness.

¶In families where August Flower is used, a sluggish liver and constipation are unknown, so are all stomach ailments, as well as indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, headaches and kidney and blader affections. No well-regulated family should be without this standard remedy.

¶Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Sinnamahoning Liars Club.

Sinnamahoning Liars Club met in regular session Wednesday night, with J. H. Drum in the chair. There was a great many whoppers sprung The great Anannias told one that took the house by surprise. He said a man lost his umbrella and he put an ad in the Driftwood Gazette. The next morning there were 269 in his front yard; so advertising pays The ad read "Lost or stolen, the finder please leave the umbrella at my gate." J. R., couldn't compete with such whoppers, so he took his seat on the shoe bench. C. A. Council took the first degree which was confered by our tonsorial artist. J. B. Council took the third degree and is so pleased with the work, he applied for the fourth and last degree. Pap Blodget is ruled out. Abe Thomson was installed as our Secretary.
